

SAQ (Cromer & Freyd, 2004)

Cromer, L. D., & Freyd, J. J. (2004, February). Stuffed animals, pets, and dissociation. Poster presented at the American Association for the Advancement of Science annual conference, Seattle, WA.

Not at all true	Somewhat true	Mostly True	Very True
0	1	2	3

1. I think of stuffed animals mostly as heirlooms for our family.
 2. Stuffed animals are mostly good souvenirs.
 3. I like to use stuffed animals as pillows.
 4. I sleep with at least one stuffed animal.
 5. Stuffed animals are mostly interesting as collectible items.
 6. I keep stuffed animals around only because of someone special gave them to me.
 7. I think stuffed animals are childish.
 8. Stuffed animals can be comforting to me when I am angry.
 9. Stuffed animals can be comforting to me when I am sad.
 10. I have a stuffed animal that is really more like a fun companion-I bring it places with me.
 11. My stuffed animals have personalities all their own.
 12. I can talk to a special stuffed animal when I need someone to really listen to me.
 13. Somehow I feel safer with a stuffed animal.
 14. I think of at least one of my stuffed animals as a friend.
 15. Stuffed animals can give you love.
 16. Stuffed animals are great for cuddling or for giving hugs.
 17. I think stuffed animals can give a kind of unconditional love.
 18. I can always count on a special stuffed animal to be there for me.
 19. Stuffed animals just create a bunch of dust and clutter.
 20. Stuffed animals are really just ornamental and not for interacting.
21. How many total stuffed animals do you own? (check one)
- 0
 - 1
 - 2 to 5
 - 6 to 10
 - 11 to 20
 - 21 to 30
 - 31 to 50
 - 51 to 75
 - 76 to 100
 - 101 to 150
 - 151 to 200
 - over 200